DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or
REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (e) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (f) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (g) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (h) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (i) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2879

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1, 2, 3, 5, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Huettinger et al. (US 6,181,065).

Regarding claims 1 and 5, Huettinger discloses a metal halide lamp in Fig. 2 having a ceramic wall 25 which is closed at an end by a projecting plug 20. The lamp further comprises a cermet lead-through 9 through the projecting plug 20 which extends from the end of the projecting plug 20 to an electrode arranged in the discharge vessel. The cermet is directly fastened to the projecting plug 20 by means of a sintered joint (col. 6, lines 24-27).

Regarding claim 2, Fig. 2 of Huettinger shows the projecting plug 20 extending a certain length, and the sintered joint having a length less than 0.8 of the length of the projecting plug 20. That is the sintered joint does not extend the full length of the projecting plug 20 at the end where the electrode is attached.

Regarding claim 3, Fig. 2 of Huettinger shows the sintered joint between the lead-through and the projecting plug 20 starting at the end of the projecting plug 20 extending into the plug

Art Unit: 2879

20. Therefore, the sintered joint extends into the plug 20 in a direction from the end to a distance of 0.0mm from the end, which meets the limitation of at most 0.5mm from the end.

Regarding claim 6, Huettinger states that the lamp is suitable for 100W and up (col. 4, lines 8-16).

Furthermore, the recitation, that the lamp has a power rating of at least 100W, has not been given patentable weight because it is considered an intended used recitation. It has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Huettinger et al. (US 6,181,065) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Pabst et al. (US 5,075,587).

Regarding claim 4, Huettinger fails to specifically teach the use of the cermet lead-through having a tapered shape adjacent the end and provided with a narrowed portion. However, Fig 3, of the Pabst reference discloses a lead-through 10' having such a shape and being provided with a narrow portion 16 so that a circular pocket is formed which permits the insertion of a sealing element 18 formed of solder and a component assisting in sintering.

Accordingly, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have made the cermet lead-through of the Huettinger reference in the shape of the lead-through disclosed by Pabst, so that a pocket is formed which permits the insertion of a sealing element formed of solder and a component assisting in sintering could be used.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure: Hing et al. (US 4,354,964); Buljan et al. (US 5,271,758); Kajihara et al. (US 4,800,320); Parker et al. (US 4,808,882); Izumiya et al. (US 4,825,126); Heider et al. (US 5,532,552); and Haraguchi et al. (JP 05334997).
